Castle Wall Productions Safety Guidelines

These are for your health and safety

- SAFETY is of prime importance in all aspects.
- CWP is a contact sport, expect some pain, bruises and possibly a little blood.
- Warm up and stretching will always be done prior to each practice / performance and cool downs at the end if deemed necessary.
- CWP warm up routine has been created by a professional health trainer.
- Be flexible and attempt all things, that IS what training is for. CWP would never ask any one to do anything that would be a danger to the individual.
- If injured during practice, two medics will attend the individual the rest of CWP will continue to train.
- If injured during a fight in a show, first determine if you can go on. If so continue, if not use the code word "blue" and yield to your opponent.
- In the event of an injury in a show, stay in character (this means EVERY ONE!)
- SAFETY is of prime importance in all aspects
- Upon the medics needing to attend the injured party, the individual will be assessed and will be escorted off the field or carried by named designate litter bearers to an area "behind the scenes."
- Any injury of any kind is to be "played off" to the general public by members of C.W.P.
- Designates (two each) will be named for each side and will be the contact individuals for any incident that needs to adjust the show this will be funneled to the director.
- Follow the words of the trainers, they are the most experienced, they know what they are talking about.
- Stay hydrated at all times.
- Water, juice, milk, soup and sports drinks NOT only coffee, tea, and soft drinks, 20 oz. one hour prior, 3-6 oz every 15-30 min. while exercising is an acceptable formula for our altitude and climate.
- Sun block will be used as we need our performers to be able to be touched. A sun burnt performer is no good to C.W.P.
- Always know where your Med Kit is.
- SAFETY is of prime importance in all aspects

Officers: Any individual that is a Team Lead within C.W.P.

Senior Officers: President or Vice-president or Vice President of Operations Treasurer/Secretary, lead trainer

Castle Wall Productions Free Form Rules

v2.1

Safety - is always enforced.

Control - is always maintained.

Honor - is always paramount.

1. The creed of Free Form must be followed Safety, Control and Honor on the field.
2. Participants must wear double gloves.
3. Opponents wearing helmets are susceptible to head hits.
4. Marshal for any duel (practice or show) must be a free form fighter.
5. Marshal or Lead Marshal will hold the Scepter of Marshaling while on the field.
6. Any CWP slashing weapon is a viable free form weapon (much care must be taken on pole arms and spears as they are generally thrusting).
7. Shields are used in defense only in free form unless both opponents are fully armored then they can be used to push opponents.
8. Choice of weapons and armor must be decided and agreed to by all opponents and the Marshal. (See below*)
9. Opponents must salute (honor is everything).
10. The Marshal will give the command of "Lay On!" to start combat.
11. Hits to an unarmored head are illegal, as are uncontrolled hits, one hit is excused, two hits, point go to opponent, three hits, disqualification, and opponent wins.
12. Hits to hand, wrist do not count.
13. Any hit to an unarmored limb causes that limb to be inactive.
 - A. Leg- must kneel with their wounded knee on ground, can drag wounded leg.
 - B. Arm- must tuck arm behind back grasping belt or clothes.
 - C. Any hit to an unarmored torso is instant "death".
 - D. A hit to armor is as follows;
 - I. A hit to heavy leather armor requires two hits.
 - II. A hit to chain, scale or ring armor requires three hits.
 - III. A hit to a helmeted head, shield or plate armor requires four hits.
14. While it is not unfair to pit armored opponents vs. unarmored it is not honorable, unless the armored opponent is outnumbered 2-1, 3-1 or 4-1, depending on armor used (see number 13).
15. There will always be half as many marshals on the field as opponents, one marshal will always be lead marshal.
16. The Marshal(s) will herald the points out loud and gesture to the victor. "Point to _____."
17. The Marshal(s) can stop all combat with a call of "Hold!".
18. Any combatant can stop a combat with a call of "I Hold" or forfeit combat by "I Yield".
19. Upon a draw or evenly matched combat the marshal may call a request from the combatants for a draw if both agree it is a draw if not combat continues.
20. The Marshal or lead Marshal will have the final say on ALL decisions.

Introduction & history of the age

To understand the history of England circa 1194 one must go back over a hundred years to William the Conqueror a Norman who defeated the Saxons and became king of England. The Saxons are by enlarge, an oppressed peoples and this continued into the time of “Robin Hood.” This hatred between Norman and Saxon runs deep, so deep in fact, that many of them consider the other a separate race. This division sometimes runs even within those peoples of the island such as Dane and Celt some historians dispute this, but records of the time show that marriages were for the most part kept separate. The second aspect of life in this time is religion, which is so important that almost every moment of life is touched by it. The crusades are proof of this and those people that are not ‘Christian’ are often considered less than people, such as the Jews, Muslims and Gypsies. These peoples are often referred to as infidels. The third fact to note is politics, which is rife throughout the church, and the state there is so much political maneuvering going on it would be impossible to name examples of it, every body’s life from the lowliest peasant to the highest king is affected by the maneuverings of politics.

Dates particular to the story

09/08/1157	Richard is born
1160	Robin is born
12/24/1166	John is born
07/06/1189	King Henry II Dies
07/20/1189	Richard crowned Duke of Normandy
09/03/1189	Richard crowned King of England
12/1189	Richard names his nephew Arthur heir in case he dies
07/1190	King Richard leaves for the Third Crusade
1192	Eleanor returns to England
09/02/1192	Richard / Saladin agree to a truce
1192	Robin returns from the crusade
1192	Tournament in Acre, Ivanhoe’s “death”
12/1192	Richard captured and imprisoned in Austria
02/1193	John learns of Richard’s imprisonment
1193	Gilbert returns from the crusades
02/04/1194	Richard is released from imprisonment
1194	Prince John’s coronation tournament (the time of our show)

Notes

Our version of the Robin Hood legend or the story of Ivanhoe is by no means supposed to be an accurate historical portrayal of the era in question. Its sole purpose is for entertainment and enjoyment.

In the writings of bios, some of the original English spelling is used to preserve the flavour of the time.

In a similar vein many of the Norman names are in their original French to preserve the ambiance of the era.
